Putting Faces to the Names

A collection of photos from the book "The Faces of Hope" by the author, featuring various individuals who have overcome adversity and found hope in their lives. The book is a compilation of interviews and stories from people who have faced challenges and have chosen to focus on the positive aspects of their experiences. It aims to inspire others by sharing their stories and highlighting the strength and resilience of the human spirit.

The photographs in the book are accompanied by brief biographies and quotes from the individuals featured. The book is divided into chapters, each focusing on a different theme such as "The Power of Resilience," "Overcoming Adversity," and "Finding Hope in Darkness." Each chapter contains several profiles of people who have faced significant challenges but who have emerged stronger and more determined.

The author, an experienced journalist and photographer, has traveled extensively to capture these stories and has interviewed people from all walks of life. The book is not only a collection of images but also a testament to the human spirit and the power of hope.

The photos in the book are accompanied by a map of the world, highlighting the places where the stories were gathered. This map serves as a visual representation of the global reach of the book and the international stories it contains.

The book is a powerful reminder of the human capacity for hope and resilience, and it encourages readers to find strength in their own lives by focusing on the positive aspects of their experiences.

Preservation in Action

On May 26, 2016, the Preservation Alliance of Rhode Island (PARI) celebrated the completion of the Preservation Alliance for Rhode Island's Protection of Preservation Capital Campaign at a ceremony at the Providence Preservation Society's offices. The campaign, which raised over $60,000, supported the preservation of historic buildings and sites in the state. The campaign's success is a testament to the ongoing commitment of Rhode Island's preservation community to protect and enhance the state's cultural heritage.
Jackson's Mill State Park Historic District

Hagaman, on the Flats

Jackson's Mill State Park was the site of a 19th-century flour mill and a later steel mill. The mill was operated by a local miller, John Jackson, who owned the property. The mill was abandoned in the 1920s and has since been restored as a state park. The park includes a museum, picnic area, and hiking trails.
