DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

Two log structures set at right angles to each other, each with massive stone chimney. Log is exposed only at one corner and seems to be Diamond notch construction. Each structure has massive stone chimney, one on east building of unusual construction and displaying wooden fire lintel. Porch posts of varied but early designs displaying evidence of rails. Doors with evidence of massive strap hinges survive, these are batter doors. One window has molded surround and lintel. Most sash is presently 6/6. Considerable history with one family. No interiors viewed. Excellent setting and extraordinary survival from earlier ear in what could be seen. Structure is truly evocative of the feeling of another ear. No other structure like it observed in County.
