

2002 Liars Contest

Flying squirrels, flying pirates, and frying fish were the order of the day during the 2002 West Virginia State Liars Contest, held during the Vandalia Gathering last year. With so much bull flying in the Cultural Center Theater, our intrepid judges had their hands full. They sorted it all out, however, and gave the following awards:

First place — Rich Knoblich of Wheeling

Second place — Mark Howes of French Creek

Third place — Nancy Feather of Aurora

A special Youth Award was presented to Justin Wood of Charleston. Congratulations and thanks to all of the contestants. Here are last year's top three winning lies.
